

CITY VIEW

To make Shenzhen a vital, scenic and creative place to live, visit and play, China Daily and the Shenzhen bureau of city administration are conducting a joint survey. Thirty attractions are listed online for you to vote on at <http://211.147.20.198/dyh/index.shtml>.

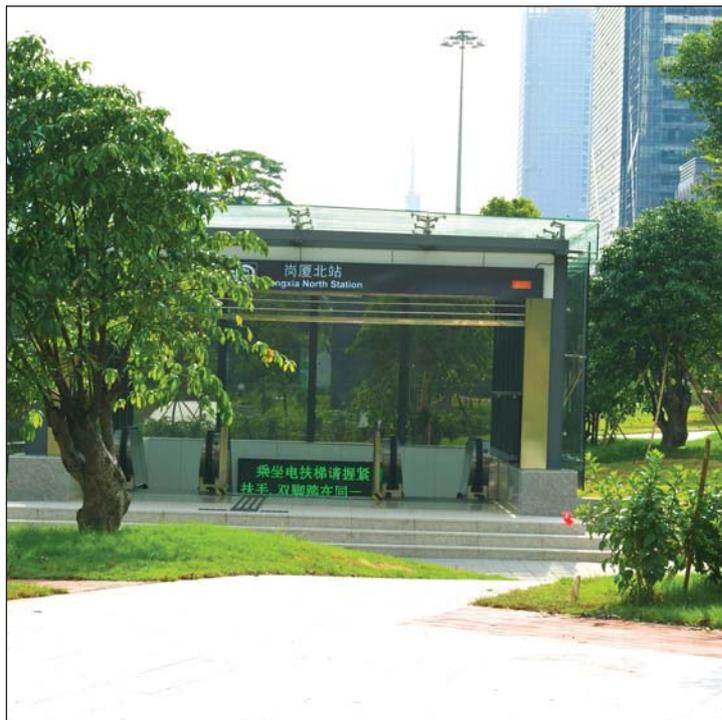

Huaxin subway station 华新路地铁站

The streetscape around Huaxin subway station has been given a facelift. A huge golden sculpture representing "more happiness" stands overlooking Central Park on the other side of a lake. Leafy trees and shady lanes provide the best environment to view the sculpture.

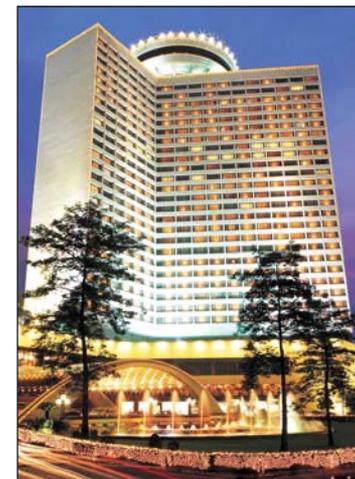

Gangxia north station 岗厦北站地铁站

Gangxia North station is an ordinary subway station in Shenzhen, but the layout of its entrance and exit is unique. It highlights urban environmental development. Surrounded by lush trees and lawns, the best way to get into the station is by walking through tree-lined lanes.
